Lullabies for Isaac

Dear Isaac,

As you grow to know each of these voices, we pray that this CD will remind you of the many people who deeply love you and are excited to be part of your life. Welcome to the wonderful world of music! Welcome to your family, and to friends who love you like family. Welcome to a rich heritage of song, word, faith, fun, learning, and love. Welcome to the exhilarating experience of being touched, changed, challenged and formed by music - and by singing and listening to music with people who love you.

This CD won't teach you all about perfect harmonies or 'performance quality' arrangements. There might be dropped "t's" or a few notes that sound off; but think of this as a 'studio set' of voices that were gathered together to tell you that they love you. Listen carefully and you can almost picture us standing in your room, smiling, and softly singing to you in the language that many of us have shared for years together. The most profound power of music is how it can get into your heart. Isaac, this is music straight from our hearts to you. We love you very much.
